*O Knowledge, as a child I stood before you with the ways of a child.
I was enchanted by your illusive radiance. Instinctively I reached out to grasp you, for it seems that even then I realized that only through you could full awareness and en-

New Ideas . . .

The world is constantly affected by new ideas. Changes for world betterment are made daily. Some of these changes are minor and can be adjusted too easily. Others are more difficult to be overcome. Whatever these new ideas may be, we must strive to accustom ourselves to them so that eventually they will become intertwined with tradition.

The age of machinery enables teachers and pupils alike to meet more fully the challenges of education.

As shown by the lengthening afternoon shadows, these girls arrive somewhat late for the new system of beginning school at 8:00 A.M.

X-period provides the time for the "barber shop septet" to rehearse.

Tradition's echo is immortal. It forever plays an important role in the lives of each and every one of us. Tradition is also the foundation for progress that our forefathers bestowed upon us with great pride. There is no future without a past. Tradition is also the main element of the present, and the foundation for the future.

The tradition of Massachusetts is symbolized by these stained-glass windows.

The pillars of Fairhaven High School:
Mr. Wood, Mrs. Knipe, Mrs. Noyer, Mrs.
Dias, and Mr. Lawton.

Our cherished trophies symbolize the tradition of Fairhaven High School.

Dedication

Walter D. Wood

*In appreciation of his thirty-two years of loyal and devoted service to the youth of Fairhaven High School, we, the class of 1961, dedicate this issue of the Huttlestonian to our Assistant Principal,
Walter D. Wood.*

From Our Principal

To the class of 1961:

When you entered the halls of Fairhaven High School four years ago, you each brought a bit of your own heritage to the school. This legacy of culture that was yours came to you from many sources, enriched and leavened by the life experiences of those who nurtured you. From the moment of your first breath your growth in its broadest sense, has been conditioned by those things we refer to as traditions. Even as we differ in family, origin and background, so do we differ in our traditions. Meeting, as you did in this school, you shared your heritage and became richer for your sharing.

To you all came part of the strength that is Fairhaven High. From the school, with its traditions of beauty and scholarship, mellowed by the fleetly passing years, you drew new wealth to add to your developing store of culture. In turn, you have given part of yourself to the tradition which those who follow will draw upon. The past has served you and you have added to the adornment of the heritage.

Yet, were you to become tradition-bound, virtual prisoners of the past, it is likely that you would fail to meet the challenge of the future. You must be ready to experiment to attempt something new and to make your contribution to the realization of the future that, as yet, is hidden in the mists beyond tomorrow's dawn. Yours is a task to construct and create. The measure of the worth of your creation will be found in the degree to which it adds to our tradition.

So, draw your inspiration from the abundance of the past, but never forget that you must be ever ready for the newness of tomorrow. May you so live that you will truly mould the future.

Class History

Four very short years ago we began our studies in Fairhaven High School. During that year of 1957-1958 we became acquainted with a new world of existence, where we were growing up by ourselves. We chose our activities, studied, and made new friends. We elected Nancy Moss to be our president; Louise Walker, Vice-President; Henry Knutsen, Secretary; and Geraldine Conceicao, Treasurer. Mr. Donald Dufour, our class adviser, helped us with our various projects, such as selling candy and helping sponsor a Freshman-Sophomore Dance.

In our Sophomore year the Sophomores from Mattapoisett Center School entered our little world. They joined with us in our projects; we again sold candy and helped sponsor the "Football Bounce." This year we chose Henry Knutsen to be our President; Nancy Moss, Vice-President; Carolyn Martin, Secretary; and Sandra Kucharsky, Treasurer. Mr. Dufour kindly helped us again by being our adviser.

As our Junior year progressed our horizons broadened, with studies becoming more difficult and our activities becoming more diverse. We sold candy as usual and elected officers. Carolyn Martin became our President; Joyce Harrison, our Vice-President; Richard Calef, our Secretary; and Henry Knutsen, our Treasurer. We had four advisers to help us this year: Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Howland, Mr. Dufour, Mr. Noyes.

Nancy Downing, Diane Despres, and Joyce Harrison represented our class in the cheering squad. With the other three classes we sponsored a dance, "Paris Holiday" where we became better acquainted with Janine Potherat, the foreign exchange student from France. Our biggest affair was our Junior Prom. At our Hawaiian paradise, "Aloha," we chose Carolyn Martin to be our queen and Joyce Harrison to be her lady-in-waiting. Her court consisted of Nancy Moss, Linda Montgomery, Nancy Downing, Kathie Schrage, Joyce Brand, and Diane Despres. Before the year ended Robert Bowman was chosen to represent us at Boys' State, and Sandra Farwell was chosen to attend Girls' State. Mary Jean Schmidt left us to journey to Finland as an American Field Service foreign exchange student. Junior Day brought to a close our days as underclassmen. At the ceremony Linda Sinkinson received the College Club Award and Lee Doran received the Harvard Club Book Award. These awards were given on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and promise of future performance. With the presentation of the mantle our role as Seniors officially began.

As we began our final year we chose Louis Fourcher to be our President; Carolyn Martin, our Vice-President; Nancy Downing, our Secretary; and Richard Calef, our Treasurer. Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Howland, Mr. Noyes, and Mr. Dufour helped us by serving as our advisers. Rita Zamboni, our foreign exchange student, enjoyed our senior year with us. Maureen Cunningham was added to the cheering squad and Carolyn Martin was chosen to represent us on Student Government Day. Our basketball team won for us additional fame with their performance on the court. With their skill, Norm, John, Bob, Skip, and Mike gave us the opportunity to play in the Tech Tourney. Shortly after this event our Senior Play was performed. On April 28, "Off the Beam", a play written by Mr. Dias, was presented to us by a number of actresses and actors: Nona Smith, John Everett, Betsy Bushnell, Ruth Ann Heuberger, Marsha DeCoffe, Victoria Plezia, Frank Teixeira, Carole Sherman, Robert Mitchell, Barbara Richmond, Carolyn Martin, Diane Kelsey, Joan Freitas, and Jack Rankin.

Our years at Fairhaven High School were ended by our traditional ceremonies. Our prom was held on June 9 and the Senior Banquet and Vesper Services were held on following days. Our graduation on June 14 marked the conclusion of our high school studies and activities. The knowledge and memories that we acquired during our years at Fairhaven High School will always be a part of us, however, as we continue to make our contributions to the world in which we live.

Class Officers

This year our class was under the able leadership of its officers and executive board. Organizing the money-making projects and the Senior Prom. are only a few of their many duties. These officers always display their capable leadership and good citizenship in and out of school.

THE SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS:
FRONT: Nancy Downing, Secretary; Carolyn Martin, Vice-President.
BACK: Richard Caler, Treasurer; Louis Fourcher, President.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD: Joyce Harrison, Henry Knutsen, Maureen Cunningham.

Class Will

We the Class of 1961, being in a not so sound state of mind, do hereby bequeath to the "Little Kids" all that we have accumulated in our days at Fairhaven High.

PAT GRACE leaves her harp to any angel in the Junior class.

RITA ZAMBONI leaves pizza to the Americans.

NORMAN TATE leaves his flirting techniques to SKIP HALL.

THE PICTURING HANGING COMMITTEE leaves its pictures to any Junior boys who would like to get out of study hall.

DICKIE GOODWIN leaves his infinite ego.

LINDA MONTGOMERY and LINDA SINKINSON leave their direct party lines to Fairhaven.

NANCY DOWNING leaves BUBSY DOWNING.

DONALD BLANCHETTE leaves his car to the junkman.

BEV SNOW leaves her crayons to MR. LAWTON.

LEE CARLE leaves his Peanut-Man suit.

RUTH ANN HEUBERGER? MARY JEAN SCHMIDT, VICKI PLEZIA and KATHIE SCHRAGE leave their road maps to Tabor Academy.

JOAN SAWYER leaves the "Teacup" to LARRY KUNZ.

FRANK TEIXEIRA leaves his collection of unused after-session slips.

JOAN BARZOZA leaves her tattered and torn Future Teachers' pledge card to next year's Future Teachers' members.

DANNY TICHON refuses to leave his T-Bird to any Juniors who don't like walking to school.

JOYCE HARRISON, LOUIS FOURCHER, SONJA JOHNSON, and PAUL DEXTRAZE leave their crutches to anyone who has an accident.

HENRY KNUTSEN abdicates his Norwegian throne to SOLVIEG KNUTSEN.

MARSHA DECOFFE leaves her music sheet inside out for MRS. JOHNSON.

PAT BARROW leaves her ability for talking to any taciturn Junior.

MARILYN GAGNE leaves her Kennedy buttons to BETHANY HAWES !! ??

DUNCAN POWER and NONA SMITH leave their acting ability to the students who play Roxanne and Christian in "Cyrano" for MRS. KNIPE.

BILLY HAYTER leaves his freckles to CAROL PIERCE.

PROSPECTIVE BRIDES throw their bouquets to any Junior girls who want to take the jump.

BETTY JANE MARTIN leaves her recipe for Mayonnaise cake to next year's public speaking class.

LOUISE DAVIDSON and BILL SYLVIA leave their paint-soaked brushes to MRS. MANDELL.

NANCY MOSS leaves her crackers and peanut butter to anybody who just can't wait for second lunch.

THE TYPING CLASSES leave their broken fingernails to next year's classes.

LEE DORAN refuses to leave his official typist to next year's Huttlestonian Editor.

EMMY O'LEARY leaves her bongo drums. . . . !

RONALD MANNY leaves his cool guitar to ROSS HOPKINS.

MAUREEN CUNNINGHAM and CAROLE SHERMAN leave Mrs. Dias some peace and quiet in Latin class.

CHARLIE CHACE leaves his tuba.

DIANNA BANGS and GEOFF ARNOLD leave the broken telephone booth.

BOBBY AXTELL leaves his hot lips to KENNY BETTENCOURT.

ALBENA SYLVIA, KATHY PAGE, and CAROL SENNA leave their white boot polish to next year's majorettes.

NANCY BARRON leaves her pep and steam to all the sluggish Juniors.

CAROLYN MARTIN bequeaths her crown to this year's queen.

JANICE KARWOSKI leaves her portfolio of horse drawings to MRS. MOORE.

JOHN KIDD leaves his half-full personal scrapbook to STEVE VINING.

LOUISE WALKER leaves her contacts. . . . !

THE HUTTLESTONIAN STAFF leave empty soda bottles to next year's staff.

Thus on this day June 14, 1961, we do declare this last will and testament, and hereby appoint Mr. Fontes executor.

American Field Service

"Walk together. talk together.
O ye peoples of the earth: then and only then shall ye have peace."

Schmidt who visited Finland.

Rita shares a hot dog with her American sister, Maureen Cunningham.

At Fairhaven High School Rita has become a friend of everyone.

Carolyn Martin, President of the Junior Class, accepts the Senior mantle from the Senior Class President, Martha Gardner.

Another highlight of our Junior year came on Junior Day. As we marched into the auditorium, we thought of the past years at Fairhaven High and of our next year when we would be Seniors. We watched Martha Gardner, Senior Class President, present the mantle to our President, Carolyn Martin, and the presentation of the Book Club Awards to Lee Doran and Linda Sinkinson. We were also entertained by musical arrangements by various groups.

This was our Junior Day, a day which will always be a fond and cherished memory.

The Junior Class eagerly awaits the beginning of the march toward the Senior year.

r Day

Linda Sinkinson is presented with the College Club Book Award, given to the Junior girl considered "most outstanding in scholarship, leadership, character, and promise of high achievement."

Lee Doran accepts from Mr. Thomas Card the Harvard Club Prize Book Award; "awarded to that student among the boys on the next to the last year of college preparatory course whom the head master, after consultation with the faculty and the boys' classmates, shall deem most worthy by result of high scholarship and character."

We could have danced all night

Aloha

"Aloha," the most enchanting evening of our Junior year, came at last on May 6, bringing with it gaiety and excitement.

We greeted the patrons and patronesses, Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Harri- man, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Entwistle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Wood, Mrs. Margaret Howland, Mrs. William Bruce, and Mrs. Richard E. Mandell. We danced to the dreamy music of Ray Besse's orchestra, amidst an Hawaiian setting enhanced with exotic flowers, waving palms, and graceful ferns.

Attractive Carolyn Martin was crowned queen by Martha Gardner, last year's queen, on a stage which was made picturesque by a panel depicting a beautiful Hawaiian beach. Carolyn reigned over a court of six radiant girls—Joyce Harrison, lady-in-waiting; Kathie Sehrage, Nancy Downing, Linda Montgomery, Joyce Brand, Nancy Moss, and Diane Despres. The dancers paraded before their queen and her court in a colorful and ceremonious grand march.

All too soon it was time for us to leave our Hawaiian fantasy. As we bid a wistful aloha to our Junior Prom, we knew that the memory of that mystical evening would always linger in our hearts.

Class Prophecy

The year is 1984, and the race to space between the United States and Russia continues, with the United States ahead by two planets. As we cruise through the stratosphere in our spacemobile, we see many of the old Fairhaven alumni busy on various planets. Approaching the planet Mars, we hear a familiar stentorian voice and find Louis Fourcher engaged in a heated discussion with a Martian about elephants and safety pins. We circle around, snooping here and there. The Fairhaven Girls' Basketball team is seen as they finally have found a team they could soundly defeat, in their new uniforms.

Our flight is suddenly interrupted as a trans-planetary paper airplane designed by George Joseph goes whizzing by. Proceeding away from Mars, we hear the ethereal voices of Mrs. Johnson's chorus echoing through the universe. As we near Venus, we are delayed in the 12 o'clock traffic. We ask Space Monitor Richard Calef, "What on EARTH is the cause of this congestion?" He replies that Mr. Boyce's Driver-Ed Flying Saucer with Betsy Bushnell behind the wheel, and Barbara Gast, Janice Johnson, Alicia Sullivan, and Janet Blanchette in the back seat is waiting for Marsha DeCoffe and her tow-truck.

Now we are circling Venus, where the Inter-Solar Olympics are being held, and we have to hold our breath as a shotput thrown by Roger Fonteneau narrowly misses our space ship. We see other participants in this Olympics: Geoff Purvis, Bob Bowman, and Charlie Fermino, who are contesting for the Men's Gold Medal.

We stay for only a few instants as we want to see the Miss Universe contest being held only a few light years away in Venovia. It is a lovely day and Jack Rankin is sitting sedately in the Judge's Box with his assistants: John Aanensen, Paul Dextraze, and John Everett, all connoisseurs of beauty. The contestants are now passing the reviewing stand: Carolyn Senna, from Jupiter, Jean Millette from Pluto, Elaine Mello representing Neptune, Betsy Medeiros from Earth, Sandra Kucharsky representing Mars, Barbara Pacheco of Saturn, Nancy Paiva from Uranus, Albena Sylvia of Mercury, and Jean Robinson representing the home planet, Venus. Unfortunately, we must continue on our way and shall have to wait until the "Morning Universe", published by Richard Moniz reaches the newstand to learn of the winner.

Our next stop is at the thriving metropolis of Nevahriaf, on the planet Uranus. My Heavens! There is Debbie Odiorne exhibiting yoga-under-water techniques. Nearby, Ed Pepin is selling peanuts, popcorn, and celestial raisins at the concession stand. As we travel down Outer Wall Street, we pass the prosperous firm of Teixeira, Richards, and Blanchette, noted picture hangers. Continuing down the famous boulevard, we stop suddenly, noticing a great commotion across the street. On crossing the street we discover that the cause of the commotion is the new teen-age idol, Billy Baldwin, making a guest appearance at the "Lunscope."

Glancing at our seventeen meteorite watch we realize it is now time to end our interplanetary expedition. With a little cloud of star dust and a big roar, we blast off into the Twilight Zone!

Amid the flying streamers, the cheering fans, and the beat of the band, our football team got off to a fast start by beating North Attleboro 14-0. The season did not produce overwhelming victories, but the boys shone gallantly on the gridiron. Fairhaven faced a tough schedule this year meeting such powers as Durfee, Coyle, and Attleboro. The highlights of the season were the 14-0 win over North Attleboro and the 36-0 lacing of Barnstable. The squad, captained by Louis Knutsen, was highly spirited and practiced diligently throughout the whole season.

"Give me that ball!"

Get going, Charlie! They're right behind you!

"Nice block, Ed!" says Knutsen as he sweeps around left end.

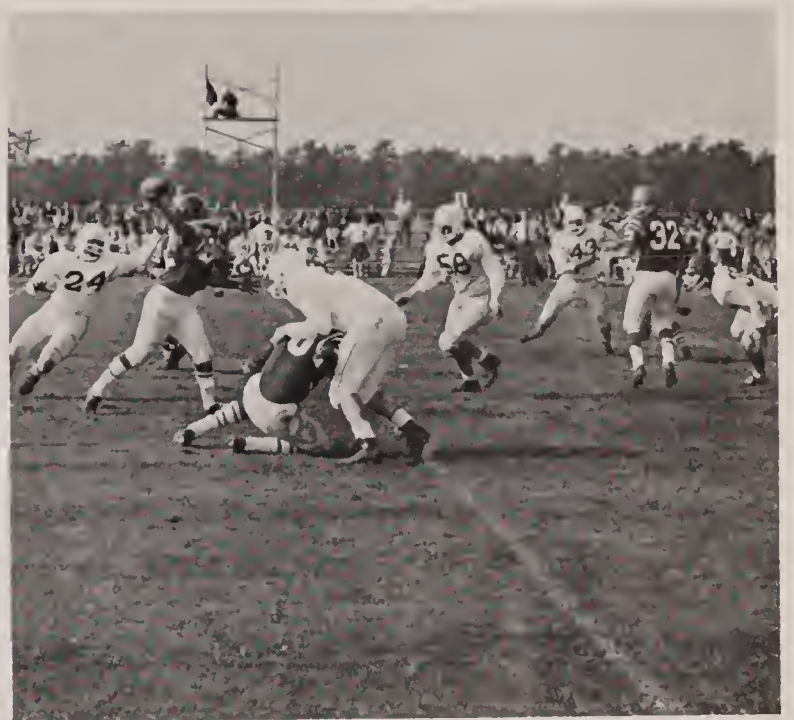

"Let's hold em, gang!"

"Go, Fairhaven, GO!"

"Get rid of it, Bill!"

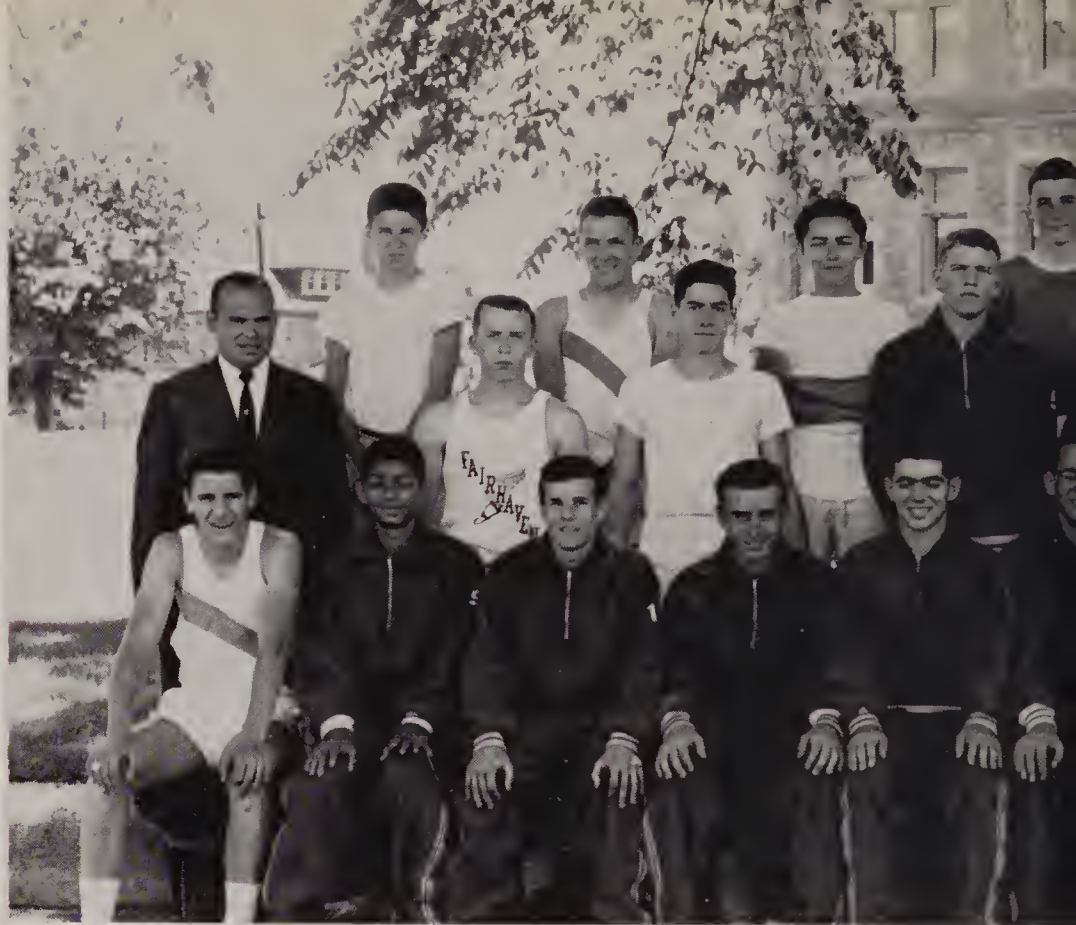

"Charlie sets for a long one!"

The Fairhaven High School track team, under the expert guidance of Coach Cornforth again had a victorious year. At the annual State Relays in Belmont, Fairhaven captured the Class D trophy by taking firsts in both the 440 and the mile relay. Fairhaven's fleet Geoff Purvis, who won the 220 at the State Meet in Fairhaven, went on to New York to compete in the National Meet.

Fairhaven nipped Dartmouth by one point in the season's most exciting meet. The last event, the relay, which was won by Fairhaven, was the straw that broke the camel's back for Dartmouth.

“ . . . Strike three, you’re out!” These were familiar words to opposing teams as Fairhaven High School’s baseball team amassed an impressive record last spring winning thirteen games out of twenty. Fairhaven’s pitching and strong hitting combined to lead our team to victory.

The season was highlighted by the 11-5 victory over Attleboro High, the 8-7 squeaker over Vocational, and the selection of three team members, Bob Bowman, Mike Fitzgerald, and Tom Mendell to the All-Bristol County Baseball Team.

Tennis

Last year's tennis team enjoyed one of the most remarkable seasons in the history of Fairhaven High School. The team, led by Frank Fletcher, one of the best players in the state, won eleven games and lost none. Frank later had an opportunity to display his great ability in state competition.

Tom Mendell, Ron Tichon, John Bresnahan, and Frank Waclawik were the other players who led Fairhaven to an undefeated season.

Girls'

"I want it!"

"Good job! Well done!" These words aptly describe the effort of the Fairhaven High School girls' basketball team. Determined to better last year's sorrowful 1-8, the players accomplished their mission with great success, winning six games out of ten. The fact that the varsity never lost by more than six points indicates how much the girls improved under the leadership of Coach Campbell.

The Junior Varsity also enjoyed a successful season as they posted an 8-2 record.

Student Council

The three Student Council officers.

The governing and planning of student activities of F.H.S. is performed by our Student Council. The members have again this year been actively engaged in various service and money raising projects. Among these are student-faculty teas, the extension of school greetings at Christmas time to local nursing homes, and the selling of candy and book covers. Some of the money raised is used to send members to the annual Student Council Convention. Also the Council has in the past donated money to worthwhile charities. Its energetic officers this year are Richard Calef—President, Linda Sinkinson—Secretary and Treasurer, and William Perry—Vice-President.

Honor Society

The cream of the intellectual crop of our class is represented by the Honor Society. The members' achievements exemplify the epitome of scholastic attainment. The Honor Society's four ideals: leadership, scholarship, character, and service, as described in its ritual of initiation, forms a moral and scholastic code for the members to strive for.

"Got your extra-super-fabulous class pin yet?" "What's your C.Q?"—the sounds of successful Key Club projects. This year the largest Key Club Fairhaven High has ever known has also been one of the most active in the school's history. Under the leadership of President George Joseph and a capable executive board, the club has endeavored to carry out such projects as would be a service to the school and the community. As a result, an informative program on citizenship was held, athletes were honored at rallies and rally dances, and Key Club Scholarships were given to deserving college-bound seniors.

Traffic Squad

Robin, who are you hiding from?

"Softly. quickly. catchee Monkey!" This, although not the motto of the school Traffic Squad, perhaps best describes the actions of our corps of monitors. Asking only for a peaceful orderliness in the corridors, but ready to support their demands with aftersession slips, the members of the Traffic Squad are friendly but firm. So when talking, do it softly, and when walking, do it quickly; the Traffic Squad is watching!

Every morning during X Period, the voices of Fairhaven's music students resound throughout the old auditorium as Mrs. Johnson leads the rehearsal for the annual Choral Concert. The various vocal groups, prepared to sing anything from pop music to hymns, often entertain at assemblies and other school activities. They also represent Fairhaven High School at many community functions throughout the year.

Math Club

From imaginaries to infinitives, from radians to radii, and from pi to phi, the universal science of mathematics is explored weekly by the Fairhaven High Math Clubs. The Freshman-Sophomore group under the direction of Mrs. Kunz has studied such interesting phases of mathematics as the binary system and set theory. Mr. Lawton's club of juniors has delved into varied subjects such as slide rule application, synthetic division theory of equations, and sets. It is thus that the Math Club provided a little extra knowledge for students with eyes on the future and a little extra enjoyment for students with a fancy for the mysteries of mathematics.

Once a week the members of the Homemaking Club assemble to further their interests in sewing and cooking. At the first meeting, the members, under the direction of Mrs. Spence, elected four capable officers: Alicia Sullivan, President; Sue Schimmel, Vice-President; Edna Cushing, Secretary; and Virginia Livesley, Treasurer.

The most important activity of the Homemaking Club is planning a Spring Style Show. All year the seamstresses sew, knit, and embroider many original creations. The ambitious cooks of the Homemaking Club also work diligently to prepare delicious refreshments for this annual social.

Printing Club

How do you spell anti-disestablishmentarianism, Mr. Charland?

Printing Club? Yes, that's right; there is one, and it's active too! Remember the "genuine" Fairhaven High School stationery? The money raised from this project and others was used for field trips such as the Club's visit to the New England Printing Show in Boston. Of course, the group's success can be attributed to the expert guidance of Mr. Charland and to the energy of its officers: president, Richard Moniz; vice-president, Robert Szeliga; secretary, Thomas Quinn; and treasurer, Alfred Raphael. With the spirit of fun and cooperation displayed by the fellows in the print shop, the Printing Club promises to have many more successful years in the future.

A relatively new group at Fairhaven High School is the Future Nurses' Club. It is comprised of candidates to the nursing profession who assemble monthly to discuss the various aspects of their future career, to investigate various nursing schools, and to analyze the responsibilities of a student nurse.

The members, under the professional guidance of Mrs. Louise Dennie R.N., have had much success with their projects and activities. At their first meeting, the members elected four capable officers: Marsha De Coffe President, Anne Wojcik Vice-President, Francis Wojcik Secretary, and Debbie Wing Treasurer. The club raised money through a cake sale and the collection of dues. A trip was made to Brockton Veterans' Hospital and Boston Children's Hospital. Every member also acquired much knowledge about the nursing profession by viewing informative movies and hearing interesting guest speakers. The most important project, however, was that of raising money to award a student of Fairhaven High School with the Future Nurses' Scholarship.

French Club

"Parlez-vous francais?" Oui? Then you must belong to the French Club.

On the first and third Friday of each month the French Club assembles. The entire meeting is conducted in French by the President, Mademoiselle Mary Jean Schmidt. The minutes of each meeting are also reported in French by the Secretary, Janet Mlanchette. The dues are collected by Duncan Power. The Vice-President is Geoffrey Arnold.

The aims of the club are to encourage further interest in French, to improve oral recitation, and to develop a broader vocabulary by reading La Vie, a French newspaper. Each member actively participates in the interesting French discussions aided by the advisers Monsieur Noyes and Monsieur Dufour. Each year, with money collected from the club dues, prizes are awarded to the students most proficient in oral French.

"TRY IT AGAIN AND PEP IT UP"

Every day through football and basketball season the Fairhaven High Cheerleaders are practising old cheers and learning new ones. They work especially hard in preparation for the Mansfield Regional Tournament and the all-important Spencer Cheering Tournament.

These peppy, energetic girls lead the student body in spirited support of our teams. With their attractive uniforms, radiant smiles and faithful mascot, Snoopy, the cheerleaders have followed our teams from Boston to Barnstable with the never-ending spirit and loyalty indicative of Fairhaven High School.

Future Teachers' Club

The Mary A. Sale branch of the Future Teachers of America is one of the more active organizations in Fairhaven High School. Twice a month this group assembles with its adviser, Mrs. Edith Moore, and four officers: Nancy Moss President, Joan Barboza Treasurer, Joyce Harrison Vice-President, and Dianna Bangs Secretary.

The Future Teachers' Club has many intentions and goals. Its most important purpose, undoubtedly, is to encourage capable students to consider the teaching profession. The members are also provided with opportunities to observe other teachers and to work with elementary students. It also hopes to develop qualities of leadership and scholarship among its members and to perform services for its school and community.

The officers and members have worked diligently to make their Future Teachers' Club a worthwhile organization. Every member hopes someday to become a devoted teacher and realizes the obligations of the teaching profession.

To read is to learn. Then, what better occupation is there than aiding others to gain knowledge? It is to this job that the members of the Library Club aspire. The girls in the club catalogue old and new books, repair broken bindings, and, in general, practice the rules demonstrated by their capable instructor, Miss Avis Pillsbury. "The Russian Easter," "Selections from Gershwin"—songs old and new played by the Fairhaven High School orchestra are well-received by appreciative audiences at the many school functions at which the orchestra plays. Under the capable conducting of Mr. Leo Balandyk the Fairhaven High School orchestra has maintained the high degree of musicianship held through the years by previous orchestras. Each year the orchestra displays its talents at the annual Southeastern Auditions Festival, always bringing home high honors. # Weightlifting

If you have ever heard strange noises emanating from the addition tunnel after school hours, more than likely they were the grunts and groans of a hard-working group of boys known as weightlifters. Did we say "hardworking?" Well, hard work comes in many forms, but have you ever tried to lift one hundred fifty pounds over your head, or do deep knee-bends with four hundred pound barbells on your back, or raise a six-hundred pound weight several times with your legs? These exercises and many more are merely an afternoon's workout for a weightlifter. However, there is a purpose to this "Nonsense." Under the direction of Coach Harry Kummer, the boys have been striving toward goals of physical fitness and physical "Readiness"—readiness for football in the fall. Thus, it is through determination and plain hard work that athletes are made, and, for a potential tackle or guard, weightlifting can be an important part of this work.

Art Club

Once a week a group of student artists gather in the tiny third floor art room for a session of the F.H.S. Art Club. This group is directed by Mrs. Mandell and led by the officers, Deborah Odiorne—President, Patricia Lamarre—Vice-President, Louise Davidson—Secretary, William Sylvia—Treasurer. This Christmas, the Art Club constructed the props for the silhouette tableau entitled, "Christmas Shadows." The members worked hard on this unique presentation which was extremely successful.

Also on the agenda were a field trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and a spring project, the construction of Easter egg trees.

The Art Club gives pupils a chance to develop their versatile abilities and to experiment with various mediums and materials.

As freshmen, we enter these portals bewildered, yet anxious to start our high school career.

We set our goals high and look forward to the year when we will be seniors. Winter passes and spring fever arrives. Now we look ahead to our Sophomore year. As Sophomores, joined by the Mattapoissett students, we broaden our knowledge with a wide variety of new studies.

The Sophomore year draws to a close, and we realize that half of our high school years have passed by.

Junior year brings more new activities. Old friendships are renewed, and new friendships are gained. We look forward with excitement and sadness to our final year—our senior year. Who knows what that year will bring.

Class of '64

We look toward our high school years with apprehension and expectation.

We have been ably led by our class officers: Holly Dixon, treasurer; David Roberts, secretary; Edward Locke, vice-president; and Jane Delano, president. . . .

... and our executive board members: Kathy Medeiros, Penny Baker, Carlos Ribeiro, Raymond Rose, and David Baker.

We are the Freshmen of 1961. Our class entered the school with the moral support of two years at the Fairhaven Jr. High. As the year progressed, we became a part of the pattern, entering eagerly into the maze of work, fun, and projects of our first year at F.H.S.

As Freshmen, we learned to be:

*Faithful to our teachers,
Ready to approach our work,
Energetic,
Spirited in sports,
Happy to meet new friends,
Morally sound,
Expectant of future experiences,
Never failing our class.*

Now we are ready and willing to climb the stairway to knowledge in our remaining years at F.H.S. and throughout our lives.

Class of '63

The class officers for 1961: Doug Cabral, President; Marjorie Schmidt, Secretary; Bill Holt, Vice-President; Debby Knox, Treasurer.

"C'mon kids, it's all ours!" Beth Church, right, exclaims to classmates Steve Vining and Marilyn Morency. The Sophomores have arrived.

No longer scared, lost Freshmen, we faced our second year of high school with fearless bravado, until we were shown that Sophomores are still underclassmen.

Nevertheless, undaunted by the admonitions of our superiors, we enjoyed our year of hard work, new friends, and good times. Our lives were filled with paper airplanes, gossip, tests, sports, and class rings. Cries of "Who do we give the candy money to?", and "Look, if you kids don't pay your dues, the class won't have any money!", filled the Sophomore homerooms.

Now, though half our high school years are over and our Mattapoissett friends are leaving us, we look forward to an equally enjoyable year as Juniors.

Arne Haines and Linda Martin create a Schrafft's stronghold.

Class officers are, left to right:
Bill Perry, President; Richard Litchfield, Secretary; Karen Behn, Vice-President; Ross Hopkins, Treasurer.

Executive Board: John
Hall, Margaret Dear-
den, Steve Toland,
Mitcheal Fitzgerald and Thomas Hiller.

Now, nearing the end of our third year, we look back upon our junior days of challenge and accomplishment. These days have meant hard work, studying, participating in college boards, and selling magazines to help defray the costs of our many senior activities. They have also been filled with many joys: the football games, the bonfire, the district concert, the basketball games and the trips to the tourney. As our junior year draws to a close we, for the first time, wish the end were far away, for June means not only vacation, but also the last time we will attend school with the Mattapoissett students.

Thus, with mixed emotions, we approach our senior year—our final step on the long road to graduation.

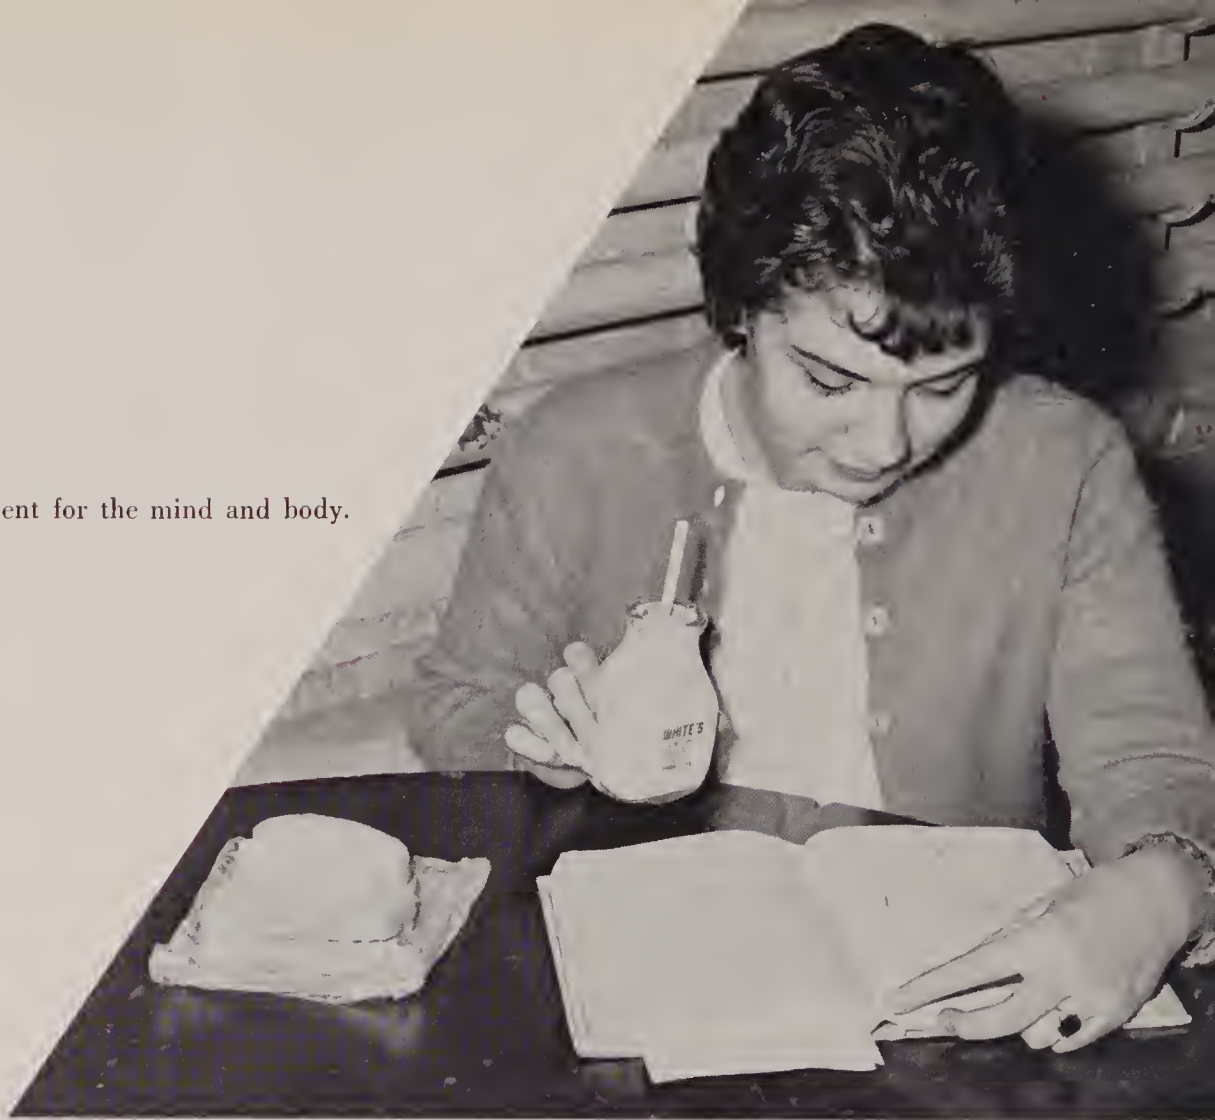

Bethany Hawes and Richard Litchfield were our top salesmen for the Junior Class. "Magazines anyone?"

An old tradition is broken as Mattapoissett students leave for Old Rochester High.

Nourishment for the mind and body.

"If I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times, keep away from my team!"

"Isn't there a law against this?"

"Isn't there a penalty against that?"

"Charge of the Light-headed Brigade."

All work and no play makes Bruce a dull boy.

Queen of the Football Dance, Ann Rezendes, and her court, from left to right: Judi Furnans, Martha Moseley, Gail Jacobson, and Diana Bangs.

Eastern Massachusetts

"They've just got to win!"

You get "A" for effort, Skip.

That's the way to fake 'em, John!

Basketball Tournament

Mike gets two at the Silver Lake game.

Norm pouts, "How dare you steal my rebound!"

The Huttlestonian thanks the New Bedford Standard-Times for the use of the photographs on these pages.

"Whew!" another cheer over with.

*Now, O Knowledge, I am a Senior.
Long have I sought you, much have
I learned, and yet I am aware that I have only just begun. I stand respectfully before you realizing that the quest for you is never-ending, the road to you, infinitely long.
Yet the rewards are great along the way, for you, O Knowledge, are hope, you are understanding,
you are the means to peace and love among mankind!*
